Lent by National Museum of Ireland, Collins Barracks, Benburb St, Stoneybatter, Dublin D07 XKV4 Ireland

Provenance
The bowl was discovered when a large capstone, which had long hindered ploughing, was lifted in late March 1974 on the land of Mr Roland Kidd, Sliguff, Co. Carlow. The lifting of the capstone revealed a crouched inhumation of a young adult male, in a short rectangular cist with the tripartite bowl. The finders removed the bowl and replaced the capstone, before reporting the find to the National Museum Ireland who investigated the site in the first week of April. The finds were donated to the museum by Mr and Mrs Roland Kidd.
